

APHRODITE, THE SO-CALLED VENUS GENITRIX

Roman, 1st century AD

Marble

H. : 125 cm. - W. : 38 cm. - D. : 36 cm.

PROVENANCE:

Formerly in the Pamphilj collection, in the gardens of Villa Pamphilj in Rome, from at least the second half of the 17th century, restored as Euterpe.

Reported in the same collection in 1850.

Then, in the French private collection of Dr. B. and M. C., sold by the Lair-Dubreuil auction house, Paris, 19 May 1910, lot no. 39 ; acquired by Georges Charbonneaux.

By descent in the same family since then.

