

AMPHORA WITH BOXERS

Greek, Attic, attributed to the Princeton Group, circa 540 -530 BC.

Black-figured terracotta, incised and with red highlights

H.: 32 cm. - Diam.: 23 cm.

Description:

Face A: two boxers flanked by umpires, blood spurting from the fighter's noses.

Face B: four dancing youths.

Rays above the foot, tongues below the neck and linked lotus buds on the neck.

PROVENANCE:

Former French private collection of the architect J.-C. Dupré, who worked with Patrice Bonnet (1879-1964) on restoring the Château de Versailles sometime during the first half of the 20th Century.

Then, by descent in the same family until 2015.

